*REIT Industry Average as of Q3 2019
Core Competency Focus: Single Tenant Retail Properties

Why Retail (vs. multiple property types)

- Higher lease renewal probability – better risk-adjusted returns
  - Retail tenants are not likely to risk disrupting established customer base to save moderate amounts of rent in new location
  - Particular location less meaningful to office/industrial tenants (cheaper commodity space in same zip code may work fine)
  - Higher renewal rates result in lower vacancy and lower tenant build out costs creating more consistent returns
- Large market with less buyer competition than other property types because properties are smaller
- Good retail locations provide deeper market for replacement tenants
- Core competency of management and deep market penetration
Net Lease Strategy Generates Reliable Income Stream w/Low Volatility

- Tenants pay taxes, maintenance and insurance

Why Selective Non-Investment Grade Tenants (vs. investment grade focus)

- Better pricing – higher cap rate, lower investment
- Better rent growth over lease term
- Durability of tenant credit can be fleeting
- Opportunity for tenant credit improvement

Long-Term Approach

- Initial lease terms are 15-20 years (renewal options)
- Don’t overreact to short-term market fluctuations
- Multi-year perspective to running our portfolio
Core Competency Focus: Single Tenant Retail Properties

Buy Smart with Extensive Underwriting Process Up Front

- Look for strong retail real estate locations
  - For existing tenant AND any future alternative retail tenant

Lower Initial Investment in Property

- Less money invested allows us to offer lower rent to retailer
- Lower rent = lower occupancy costs for retailer
  - As a result, retailer more likely to succeed at that location
- Lower rent = easier to re-lease property without reduction in rent
- We have contractual rent increases built into the lease
E-Commerce Threat

- NNN focuses on retail categories that we believe are less susceptible to the e-commerce threat:
  - Convenience stores, restaurants, fitness centers, car washes, etc. are all categories that aren’t under attack from the internet. (We own nearly no apparel oriented retailers.)
  - Most susceptible categories in our portfolio (books, consumer electronics, office supplies) are each less than 2% categories. And we believe the real estate that we own for those stores is well-located.
  - Successful bricks-and-mortar stores have an online presence AND many e-retailers are now adding physical stores (Omni-channel).
    (See 5/16/17 WSJ: “Web-Retail Startups Turn for Growth to Bricks-and-Mortar”)
Lease Expirations

(As a percentage of annual base rent – December 31, 2019)

- Weighted average remaining lease term of 11.2 years
- Only 10.7% of leases expire through 2022
2010 – 2019 Acquisitions Volume in $ Millions by Source

- Relationship @ 7.5% Average Cap Rate ($4,948 million = 73%)
- Market / Auction @ 7.3% Average Cap Rate ($1,813 million = 27%)
NNN in a Rising Interest Rate Environment

NNN is better positioned to successfully execute its strategy than its triple-net and non-triple net peers in a rising interest rate environment

- NNN’s historically higher acquisition cap rates (7.5% since 2010; 6.9% recent acquisitions) create much more room for spread compression before acquisitions cease being accretive
- Less exposure to refinancing risk – from low leverage balance sheet and long duration maturities
- Little floating rate debt – NNN’s $900 million bank credit facility has an outstanding balance of $133.6 million at 12/31/19
- Less than $327 million of debt maturing through 2022
- Well-laddered debt maturities limits a particular year’s exposure to rate spikes
Conservative Balance Sheet Management
